TEN POINT BRINGS CROWD'S CHEERS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Baltimore, Md., April 22.—Five thousand persons cheered for more than three minutes this afternoon at Havre de Grace when Ten Point, owned by A. L. Astor, with Turner up, won the Belair Handicap at six furlongs, with a net value to the winner of $12,000. It was the best field of sprinters that has faced the starter at this meeting, the only withdrawals being Monocacy and Aldebaran. Frederick L. was made favorite, but a steady play on Ten Point forced his price down from 5 to 1 to 7 to 2. The start was ragged. Ten Point left the barrier with a great burst of speed, but Turner, under instructions from the stable, took a strong hold on him, going around the far turn and held him well in hand at the finish, two lengths in front of John Whalen's dusky, which closed on his own courage. Frederick L. was left flat-footed at the start, and had to work his way up to get third.

Results: First race—two-year-olds, selling, four and a half furlongs—Gordon, 109 (J. Wilson), 13 to 10; won; Wooden Shoes, 111 (Mendon), 2 to 5; second; Bulgar, 104 (Turner), 1 to 2; third. Time, 44 3/4. The Umpire, Miss Waters and Scarlet Letter also ran.

PITCHERS' BATTLE WON BY ROANOKE

Hedgpath and Gardin Engage in Hurling Duel, With Champ Portpaw Winning.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Petersburg, Va., April 22.—In a pitcher's battle between Hedgpath and Gardin, the Champs proved themselves to be the best batters, hitting the local twirler for five singles and two doubles, while Gardin held the Goobers down to a triple and four singles. Both teams played a fine fielding game. Presley's steal home in the fourth inning while Hedgpath was watching Mattis on first, was the most brilliant and daring piece of stealing ever seen in this city. Barnett's triple, which should have been a homer but for the fact that he was held at third, and Ginn's throw from center field after catching Laughlin's fly, catching Barnett at the home plate, were the features. JOHN MARSHALL-McGUIRE GAME PROVES THRILLER

Prep Schools Put Up Classy Article of Ball—Snead Is Hero.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lexington, Va., April 22.—In a hard-fought contest, Agricultural and Mechanical, of North Carolina, defeated Washington and Lee today by the score of 4 to 3. The Tarheels tallied twice in the opening round on doubles by Farmer, Winston and Britton. In the second they added another when Page was safe on Larriek's error and Kincaid hit for two bases. The visitors' last run came in the third, when Correll, who had gotten life on a wild pitch and stole third, Leach got to first on four balls and stole second. M. Corbill got his base on Robins' error, and Paschall scored at the same time.

Snead then came to the bat and lined out a three-base hit, which scored Corbill and Leach. In the ending of the inning the High School made one run by a sacrifice hit and two singles. In the next two innings McGuire's scored two more runs, one in the second. An especial feature of the inning was that Snead got another three-base hit and scored the third of this inning. In the second inning the High School scored twice, and again in the third. This made the score 5 to 4.

In the fifth McGuire's scored two runs by a single from Mac, Cogbill and Leach's three-base hit. Hammond, who had been pitching for McGuire's began to weaken in the fifth, and changed places with Snead, in right field.

Snead came to the box with no outs and a man on second, but he came through all right and allowed no hits, and no one scored. In this inning three hits were gotten off Hammond, and three men scored, which made the score a tie, 7 to 7. T. Cogbill, also in the fifth, made a sensational running one-hand catch.

In the seventh McGuire's scored one run, and again in the eighth three more, by bunching hits on Atkinson, who had taken Craig's place. The High School made three runs also in the eighth by getting two two-base hits and a single, all three of which

TRINITY TAKES EASY VICTORY

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lexington, Va., April 22.—Trinity, of North Carolina, won easily over Virginia Military Institute, 10 to 5, in a game played at the latter's grounds in the ninth, after the Cadets had fled up in the eighth, on two errors, a pass, Thompson's three-bagger and single. The score: R H E. Trinity 10 6 0 0 0 0 0 0 10 10 5. Cadets 5 10 0 0 0 0 0 0 5 7 6. Batteries: Kilpe and Maddox; Leach and Hudson. Umpire—Mr. Battery, Washington and Lee.

Wagner May Be Out for Season

Boston, April 22.—Honorus' Wagner, the Pittsburgh Pirates' great shortstop, is likely to be out of the game for some months, according to what is quoted in baseball circles here as "the best authority." "The statement is made that Wagner's absence from his team is due to a foot injury in the knee, revealed by a sprain in the West last week, and it is said that in the course of a few days Wagner will undergo an operation in New York. It is declared that even though the injury is not serious, Wagner probably will have to lay off until the first of August, and if unsuccessful, the chances are that the Pittsburgh club will lose permanently the services of one of the greatest players baseball has known.

AMUSEMENTS.

Academy—"Bought and Paid For," matinee and night. Bijou—"The Common Law," matinee and night. Empire—"The Common Law," matinee and night. Little Theatre—"The Common Law," matinee and night.

"The Common Law." Without going too deeply into the merits of the play's construction, it may be said that "The Common Law," which is being presented at the Bijou this week, is an attraction quite out of the ordinary run of offerings at that popular-price theatre. In its dramatic form, much of the insidiousness of the story, common to nearly all of Robert W. Chambers' work, has been omitted, but the remains enough of the bold theme, enough of its many rather startling incidents, to make the play broad, to describe it mildly.

The book has been so widely read that it is necessary to distinguish it from the profits Mr. Chambers' other output only to recall the central "problem"—that which confronts a model who poses as did Du Maurier's "Trilby," but who is otherwise "everything tender and everything fair," when she is sought in marriage by a brilliant artist of exalted social position, and, for love of him, desires to be all things to him except his wife, a sacrifice which he will not permit her to make, though she insists ever so strongly that marriage, to her would mean an end of his career in his own world.

From the drawings of Charles Dana Gibson, which appeared first when the book was run in serial form, the two settings shown in the four acts of the play have been carefully built, with the result that the unusually handsome mounting of the piece is accurate and artistic.

Of the presenting company, Walter Fenner stood out in the character of Querida, not only looking the part, as Mr. Gibson conceived Querida, but playing it with poise and a convincing expression of its indicated shyness, while Marguerite Chaffee, as Rita Tevis, displayed so many valuable items of physical equipment for conspicuous work, as well as so much natural talent, that one longer to see her drop the attitude of waiting for laughs in the delivery of comedy lines, and of artificial tenseness in her heavy-lidded eyes, in the character of Querida, the bit of the janitor, and Bernard Riggs drew many laughs as Sam Ogilvy, who was always just about to "give a party."

And, although they all said "stoodle," the appearance of the room referred to more than counterbalanced the trifling fault in pronunciation. W. Douglas Gordon.

Larger House for Brady's Play.

As the hideous cacophony of "The Kiss Waltz" had receded a bit farther into the limbo of hated things, a larger audience than that of the night before witnessed last night's performance of "Bought and Paid For," and came away, as was to be expected, with enthusiasm for the play, the production, the performance, and, in particular, the fine work of Hobart Cavannah as "Jimmy." STENFELDT TO LEAD LYNCHBURG

Lynchburg, Va., April 22.—Harry Stenfelt, of the Chicago Cubs, will play third base for the Lynchburg team in the United States League, all doubt about his reporting here having been dispelled in a letter Manager MacKinnon received from the veteran this morning.

In former correspondence with Manager MacKinnon Stenfelt expressed a doubt as to his ability to get on with the team again, but now he writes that he is working out in Cincinnati and will report here in good condition, though he will not come for the training season. However, he will be in time for the opening game May 10. Stenfelt, who has been with the Cubs for three seasons, and who has played in the big league, has signed a contract with Lynchburg and Manager MacKinnon announced that Stenfelt will report here the latter part of this week.

Murphy says he probably will move to California, as he expects to fight most of his future battles in this State.

A local promoter is endeavoring to match him for a twenty-round meeting with Willie Ritchie, the champion.
